

Christmas Island Police stamps

The Philatelic Bureau has released a Special Issue of stamps to recognise the role of the Christmas Island Police Force.

The stamp issue covers four of the diverse activities which the police officers cover on the island. There are four stamps in the special issue set, a miniature sheet and two first day covers. The issue will be available until 31 August.

There are two 43 cent stamps, one depicting the community relations role, while traffic control is featured on the other. Customs and quarantine is depicted on the 90 cent stamp, and the search and rescue service on the $1.20 stamp.

The miniature sheet contains one of each stamp in the set and is $2.96.
