International Criminal Law Congress in Sydney

The Fifth International Criminal Law Congress will be held in Sydney from September 25-30, 1994.

More than 120 delegates from 12 countries had registered by mid-August.

One of the sessions, "Under Cover Police and Entrapment", will look at the extent to which the law in Australia and the US has diverged in this important area and the definition of conduct (on the part of police) which constitutes acting as agent provocateur.

The session will also look at current developments in police training. A session on Monday, September 26 will feature a paper by Darwin barrister Colin McDonald, "Unwanted Migrants — Boat People — Detention Without Trial".

Another session will look at the impact of "Crime Commissions" on the criminal trial.

Sessions on the final day will deal with "Uniform Australian Criminal Evidence and Procedure" and "Reform of the Criminal Law".

For information and/or registration contact Susan Cox at the NT Legal Aid Commission (81 4799) or Peter Tiffin at the Department of Law (89 7116).
