RBS GRANT

A GRANT OF $88,000 has been made by the Ministry for Youth and Community Services towards developing the library operations of the Royal Blind Society of NSW.
The Society has produced nearly 2000 book titles; and about 2000 copies of taped magazines are distributed monthly. These include the Society's own Audio Magazine a review of current affairs, local, national and international, compiled by veteran broadcaster Max Taylor. The RBS is also raising funds to provide 5000 talking book machines free of charge to those who need them.
For further information please contact: Ian Allan, (02) 747 6622.

The Mayor of Burwood, John Lutman, watches as the Member for Burwood, Phil O'Neill presents a cheque for $88,000 to Graham Laurence, General Manager of the RBS.

The mentally ill

MENTALLY ILL people often live their lives in isolation, loneliness and misunderstanding, says the State Co-ordinator of the NSW Association for Mental Health, Mrs Barbara Sherman.

Mrs Sherman was outlining some of the problems associated with mental illness as part of a campaign to develop community awareness in the International Year of the Disabled.

She stresses that the image of a mentally ill person as someone associated with violence locked up in an institution is incorrect. Many people who have mental or emotional breakdowns completely recover and pick up the threads of their lives very quickly.

July, nominated as mental health month, will feature a number of projects and programs to promote a better understanding of mental illness and mental health. It is hoped that libraries and bookshops will mount special displays of literature about mental illness during the month of July.

For further information contact Mrs Barbara Sherman, NSW Association for Mental Health, 194 Miller St, North Sydney, NSW 2060, telephone (02) 929 4388.
