

Volume 6 Number 21

Newsletter of the Library Association of Australia, 376 Jones St, Ultimo 2007. Tel: (02) 692 9233

THE LATEST FROM DARWIN

ibraries and Lifestyles

he programme for the LAA Biennial Confernce is now well in hand. There are now over 0 speakers presenting keynote, panel and oncurrent sessions, workshops and lunchme lectures. The range of topics is very road and there will be something of interest or everyone.

Keynote speakers include Dr Ching-Chin then, John Ah Kit, Richard Washburn and youg Zweizig. Their presentations will cover opics ranging from videodisc technology, moivation in the workforce, and measurement f library services.

specials for Fannie Bay Gaol and Cocktails at the Peewee Samp

ocial and hospitality activities planning is nder way. The social events start with the perior ceremony in the Botanic Gardens on unday 29 June and conclude with the Mardi ras of the closing ceremony on Friday 4 July. ctivities in between include reference lirarians' dinner at the Sailing Club, the IBBY oolside lunch at the Phoenix, acquisitions lirarians' gathering at the Beagle Restaurant, copical breakfast for all delegates, cocktail arty at the Peewee Camp, East Point ANF, he specials' spit roast, folk music and dancng in Fannie Bay Gaol. Other groups are geting together at restaurants and selected ocations such as The Esplanade Gallery and he Tree of Knowledge. The conference comnittee look forward to seeing you in Darwin oncurrent sessions have been arranged in an ttempt to provide the widest choice for the xtensive range of LAA membership. The neme 'Law and Society' will include such ppics as the Challenge to the Neutrality of ibrarianship, Library Services in the NT, Inpromation Services to Local Authorities and aformation Backup for Real Property Law.

Concurrent Sessions

In the area of 'Media and Marketing' conurrent sessions will be held covering such ppics as: The implementation of public comuter systems, Access to computers via gateray packages, Automated inter-library loans and Are we informed when we have aformation.

Speakers including Euan Miller, Marlene eigh Evans, Ida Vincent, Rhonda Bignell, 'wila Herr, Angela Bridgland, Ian McCallum, Iargaret Cameron, Alexis Taylor and Innese Vittich will be presenting papers on the heme 'Patterns of Work and Leisure'. Some f the areas covered will include library nonse, experiences of an exchange library techician in the US, people, information and ublic libraries, public libraries and unemloyed people, library services to the aged, stress management and details of 'Project Read'.

Bobby Ngainmira of the Gunwinggu Tribe, Western Arnhem Land with his son. Bobby painted the bark painting that is on the poster. (Photo courtesy of Valentine Greeting Cards.)

On the theme, 'Business' speakers include Gordon Bower, Jane Hodges, Dagmar Schmidmaier, Warwick Cathro and Elaine Hall. Their topics will include: costs of providing an information service to business, networks within networks, bibliographic network standards and the interconnection of local automated systems.

Panel Sessions

A wide variety of panel sessions will also be presented: women in libraries, marketing library services, marketing strategies for libraries, library co-operation, personnel issues, information sources for community groups, school library automation, educational trends for librarianship, library services to the isolated, reader education for library use, the book trade and running an information consultancy.

A research forum is also scheduled with a variety of papers being presented.

Thomas Keneally will present the James Bennett Lecture. Local flavour will be added via a presentation by the Darwin Theatre Group and Associates, along with 'Tall Tales' told by local identities.

Pre- and post-conference sessions should ensure that delegates venturing to Darwin for the conference will have a wide variety of topics and activities to choose from, in an attempt to further their knowledge of librarianship.

 ${\it Elizabeth\ Desailly} \\ {\it Darwin\ Institute\ of\ Technology}$

