

craft (-ah-), n. skill; art; trade; cunning

That's what the Concise Oxford Dictionary has to say about the word craft. Here at Craft Printing Industries we feel it means all that and more.

Skill.

At Craft Printing you can be sure your work is in the most skilled of hands from the word go. These skilled hands ensure your printing is completed quickly and with a minimum of fuss. You can get on with running your business while we get on with the job.

Art.

To give our customers the most complete service possible we at Craft Printing have a fully equipped art studio for graphic design, artwork and typesetting. All you need bring us is the idea!

Trade.

Printing is more than just a trade to us, it's our life and we are devoted to developing better and more efficient ways of producing your material. At present we offer one, two and four colour printing, die cutting, platemaking, folding, collating and full binding assembly. As we grow so the services we offer grow as well.

Cunning.

Our sales staff are the best at working out cunning ways to cheapen the cost of your job without compromising the quality.

We believe we offer some of the lowest rates in Sydney while producing some of the best work.

All that and more...

Craft Printing has friends. If there is a particular service you require which we ourselves don't offer we can arrange it through the many talented contacts we have accumulated. This saves you the problem of running all over town for different types of work, we do the running for you.

Call us with your printing problems now. If we can't smooth the way for you, no-one can. Oh, and by the way, we print this magazine.
