

WHO'S WHERE

The New South Wales Parliamentary Library has had some major changes in its middle management. Giselle B Dawson, Current Awareness Services Librarian left to become a member of the very select group of women appointed as Usher of the Black Rod in the New South Wales Legislative Council. Vanessa O'Meara, Deputy Reference Librarian resigned for personal reasons. Catherine Watson has become Current Awareness Services Librarian, and is deputy head of the Information Resources Unit. Warren Cahill who was Project Officer for the Library's recently inaugurated automation project has been appointed Deputy Reference Librarian.

John Bartholomaeus is now Chief Librarian at the ABC Reference Library in Sydney. For the previous 6 years John has worked in various positions in the NSW Department of TAFE including Librarian-in-Charge at Randwick College of TAFE and in the Special Projects Section of TAFE Library Services where he was implementing the CLANN on-line systems in college libraries.

Christine Crocker has accepted appointment as University Librarian at the University of Tasmania, and will take up her position on 26 November 1990. Christine is at present in the United States as a Fulbright Senior Scholar, one of eight from Australia this year. She is working with the Office of Management Services of the Association of Research Libraries.

Christine has been Reader Services Librarian at Deakin University since 1985, and served as Deputy during 1988-89 during the half-time appointment of the University Librarian as Pro Vice Chancellor. She began her library career at the University College of Townsville in 1966. During 1977 and 1978 she was the first External Studies Librarian at Townsville CAE; a special interest later demonstrated as Thatcher Librarian at the University of Queensland from 1980-83, and of course at Deakin.

Christine's career has been characterised by professional dedication and energy. She has always been an active contributor to the Australian Library and Information Association, and has held numerous offices and presented papers at many professional conferences. She was the James Cook Bicentenary Scholar in 1985. Her special interests include: services to external students (she has published nearly twenty papers on this, including the CTEC study report A national library card for external students? (1987); research on the psychological barriers between librarians and users; and management education for librarians. She has worked as a management trainer for the Australian Information Management Association, donating her fees to the Deakin Library to fund the participation of other staff in AIMA courses.

Sue Noble has been appointed to the position of Marketing Manager of RAECO. She previously held the position of Senior Executive Librarian with Camberwell City Libraries.

RAECO is supporting Sue's continued involvement in the library profession. She is currently President of ALIA's Public Library Section (Victorian Branch), Chairperson of the Victorian Public Library Expo Association and the professional representative on the Public Libraries Liaison Committee.

Sue can be contacted at RAECO on (03) 553 0255, fax (03) 553 2210, or PO Box 237, Cheltenham, Victoria 3192.

We're organising now for the second Australian
Feminist Book Fortnight
September 6-22, 1991

Seeding event:
"The Book Night" to be held
Australia-wide
on International Women's Day,
March 8, 1991

For more information on how you and your library can participate send a stamped self-addressed envelope to

AFBF National Co-ordinator
308 Victoria St
Brunswick 3056

James Bennett

LIBRARY SERVICES

OFFERS ADVANTAGES TO LIBRARIANS

- Fast supply: local sourcing supported by overseas airfreight
- Flexible and responsive services based locally to meet library needs
- Competitive pricing
- Accurate fulfilment
- Specialist supplier of Australian publications
- Australian blanket orders and approval plans

For details ring Jerelynn Brown
Manager, Sales & Customer Service

4 Collaroy Street Collaroy NSW 2097 Australia
Phone: (02) 982 2122 Toll-free: (008) 226 784
Fax: (02) 971 1309