

Honorary doctorate for Warren Horton

The degree of Doctor of Letters (honoris causa) was conferred on Warren Horton, Director-General of the National Library of Australia, at a graduation ceremony on La Trobe University on 20 May. The citation included, among his major achievements, Mr Horton's substantial contribution to Australian and international librarianship, his vision and leadership that have been the cornerstone of most cooperative developments in the Australian library community in the past decade, and his positioning of the National Library within Australia's intellectual and artistic community. ■
