The book that built a building

What can I say that will do justice to a project like Novocastrian tales? Authors, publishers, printers, the media, corporations, retailers et al have all donated time and talent to this laudable cause in partnership with local Aboriginal people. The Hunter Region has produced many models for Australia in the industrial sense, but here is a model of reconciliation in action.'

The Honourable E G Whitlam, AC, QC

Novocastrian Tales (Elephant Press, Paul F Walsh, Ed, ISBN 0 646 32308 3) is a bicentenary gift for the people of Newcastle and the Hunter region, and spans the history of Newcastle and the Hunter from before white settlement to the future through a rare blend of documents, fiction, faction, poetry, and pure entertainment.

Authors include Phillip Adams, John Bell, Julian Croft, John Doyle (also known as Ram-paging Roy Slaven), Nick Enright, Judith Fox, Marion Halligan, Nigel Krauth, Donna Meehan, Les Murray, John O'Donoghue, Mickey Robins, Yahoo Serious, Michael Stephens, Kate Walter and Paul F Walsh. The preface is by E G Whitlam.

All proceeds from Novocastrian tales are being donated to the establishment of an Aboriginal accommodation centre in the bushland of Newcastle's John Hunter Hospital. Yallarwah home will provide accommodation for the families of Aboriginal patients who are in health crisis. Yallarwah Home will serve all the Aboriginal communities of Northern New South Wales. It is believed to be the first establishment of its kind in Australia.

For every dollar raised by sales of Novocastrian tales the New South Wales State Government has pledged to contribute a further three dollars to the building of Yallarwah Home, up to a ceiling of $300 000. The building will cost $420 000. Novocastrian Tales will be the book that built a building when twelve thousand copies are sold nationally.

Novocastrian tales can be purchased for $14.95 RRP from the ABC Shop, or $14.95 plus $6.50 postage and handling from the ABC mail order service, telephone 1300 360111, fax 1300 360150, or visit the web site at <http://www.abc.net.au/abcshop/>. Orders and purchases should be made prior to Christmas 1997.

Novocastrian tales was awarded a special State Award by the Council for Aboriginal Reconciliation in 1997. ■

Link-up newsletter now replaced by electronic discussion list

The National Library of Australia's publication Link-up has been replaced by an electronic mailing list due to receive its first postings at the end of September.

The linkup-l discussion list is designed to foster networking at the grassroots level among libraries concerned with service provision in the special interest areas of cultural diversity, literacy and disability. As well as creating a forum for discussion, it will host occasional 'news releases' in the form of specifically commissioned articles. In addition, an archive on the National Library of Australia's World Wide Web server is being developed for some of the list contributions.

Joining instructions are uncomplicated. Just send an e-mail message to listserv@nla.gov.au and include only the following words as a separate line in the body of the message: subscribe linkup-l <your full name> example: subscribe linkup-l Katy Bramich. Note: that l = 'el' not 'one'; and please do not include a signature file in message.

A full list of commands understood by the National Library of Australia's listserv is available by sending an e-mail with only the word 'help' in the body of the message to the same address.

Katy Bramich will answer any questions you have. She can be contacted by phone 02 6262 1537, on facsimile 02 6273 4493 or via e-mail kbramich@nla.gov.au ■
