Who's Where

Recent movements in the library and information sector

Australian School Libraries Association (ASLA)

The honorary office bearers of ASLA, effective following the ASLA Council meeting in Sydney 23–25 August have been announced.

President: Mary-Ann Salisbury (QLD): mary-ann.salisbury@runcornshs. qld.edu.au

Vice-president: Association Relations Pru Mitchell (SA): pru.mitchell@bigpond. com

Vice-president: Association Operations: Di Ballantyne (ACT): di.ballantyne@bigpond.com

Secretary: Lesa Cornock (NT): cornocks@ozemail.com.au

Treasurer: Michele McLoughlin (ACT): michele.mcloughlin@telopea. act.edu.au

Resource Options expands into records management

Resource Options welcomes Mary Griffiths to their team. Mary joins the company as a records management professional, a specialist area of the business that has seen significant growth.

Mary's background includes working in Victoria as a consultant and as records manager for major companies such as the Wool Research and Development Corporation and County NatWest. She is currently extending her qualifications by completing her Bachelor of Arts in Library and Information Science.

At Resource Options, Mary is available for both consulting and recruitment in records and information management areas.

Dialog appoints Viji Krishnan, vice-principal, content development

Dialog has announced that Viji Krishnan has been appointed vice-president, content development, with global responsibility. Krishnan manages the collection and licensing of content gathered worldwide from publishers, information aggregators, specialised data services and others, and made available through the various online information services offered by Dialog.

Krishnan began her Dialog career in 1997 when she joined one of the company's predecessor organisations as a project manager. The following year, she was promoted to content director with extensive responsibilities for licensing. In 2000, she was appointed vice-president for London-based content activities.

Krishnan holds a master's in business administration in marketing from City University Business School, London. She also holds a master's in business administration from Osmania University, Hyderabad, India, where she ranked first in her class. Her undergraduate degree, in business commerce, is from Madras University, India, where she earned first class honours.

New director of publisher relations and marketing for Swets Blackwell

Swets Blackwell is pleased to announce the appointment of Mark Storm as director of publisher relations and marketing (PRM), its global division dedicated to strengthening the company's relationships with its more than 65 000 publisher partners. In addition to his role as PRM director, Mr Storm will join Swets Blackwell's Management Team, based in its head office in the Netherlands.

Mr Storm, who has over ten years experience in the publishing industry, joined Swets Blackwell from CustomerSelekt, a unit of Elsevier Business Intelligence, where he was general manager. He has also held publisher and marketing positions at Uitgeverij ten Hagen & Stam, a Wolters Kluwer subsidiary, and Sdu Uitgevers. During his tenure at Wolters Kluwer, he played a role in the strategic development of its Industry business unit.

Endeavor Information Systems

Endeavor Information Systems has appointed Donald Rydzewski as Director of Implementation, and Marianne Parkhill as director of product management.

Donald Rydzewski brings strong leadership and a solid background in software implementation to Endeavor. Rydzewski assumes responsibility for guiding Endeavor's implementation departments, which assist Endeavor customers in the migration to the Voyager integrated library management system, the ENCompass Solutions for managing, searching and linking digital collections, the LinkFinderPlus comprehensive linking system and Endeavor's eleven other available systems. Rydzewski will work with Endeavor's established department managers to ensure swift and positive customer implementations.

Rydzewski joins Endeavor from San Diego-based Peregrine Systems, Inc, a global supplier of infrastructure management and e-business software, where he was most recently the implementation planning manager. At Peregrine, Rydzewski was instrumental in aligning products and services with customers' business processes, helping customers achieve the highest returns on their investments in the software.

Prior to Peregrine, Rydzewski was the vice-president of implementation at Financial Technology, Inc, a leading accounting and decision support software company with a worldwide customer base.

Marianne Parkhill brings more than ten years of product management experience to Endeavor, including time in the library industry at Ameritch-NOTIS. At Endeavor, Parkhill guides the growth and enhancements of the Voyager integrated library information management system; the ENCompass Solutions for managing, searching and linking diverse digital collections; and the LinkFinder*Plus* comprehensive linking system.

Blackwell Publishing

Paul Calow joins Blackwell publishing as their new journal sales executive covering Belguim, France, Portugal, Scandinavia and Spain. Paul works within the global sales team, developing journal sales to academic and commercial libraries, negotiating site licenses for access to online journals, and promoting the migration from paper to online. Prior to joining Blackwell Publishing, Paul worked with ScholarOne Inc, selling their suite of web-based workflow solutions to scholarly publishers, societies and conference organisers. Paul has also worked with RCP Publishing solutions and with Blackwell Information Services.

New member of the NISO Board of Directors

Deborah V Loeding has been elected to the board of the National Information Standards Organisation (NISO) for a three-year term, and Brian Green and Richard Luce have been re-elected and will serve second three-year terms.

Deborah Leoding is vice-president of Sales and Marketing at H W Wilson. She has been inolved in world-wide selling and marketing activities. Most recently she has been involved in the company's web product development underscoring the need for interoperability among vendor services. She has been with the H W Wilson Company for eighteen years, and has ten years experience as a librarian, having worked in college, public, and special libraries. ∎