

2019 F A SHARR AWARD WINNER

Kristin Stephenson, Librarian at the Mary Davies Library and Community Centre in Rockingham, Perth, has been awarded the 2018 F A Sharr Award. Kristin was presented the award at the annual 'Celebrating Excellence' event at the State Library of Western Australia on 23 May 2019.

The F A Sharr Award honours Francis Aubie (Ali) Sharr, State Librarian of Western Australia from 1953–1976, in recognition of his contribution to libraries and librarianship in the state. The award is presented to a Western Australian librarian, teacher librarian or library technician, within their first three years following graduation, who exhibits the most potential to make a significant contribution to the profession. The award is maintained by the ALIAWest Group, with support from ALIA WA Library Technicians Group (WALT).

As part of the selection process, Kristin delivered a passionate and thought-provoking presentation about the importance of advocacy, rooted in her lifelong connection to libraries and a firm belief in their value for communities. In facing the challenge of increasing public awareness of libraries, Kristin highlighted the need for strong advocacy within and beyond our personal and professional circles, as well as exploring creative partnerships with organisations and businesses local to the library as a way of reaching out to community members and bringing the library to them. ✨

BETTER READING supporting libraries

It can be hard to keep up to date with hundreds of books hitting the shelves each month, especially if you're wanting to connect avid readers who visit your library with books they will love. Better Reading, Australia's largest online reading community, is increasingly a resource that bookshops, libraries, teachers, parents and book clubs are turning to. Founded by Cheryl

Akle, with the aim of connecting Australian readers with great stories, Better Reading reaches more than 500,000 book lovers daily, via book reviews, articles, recommended reads, and Facebook Live author interviews.

One of Better Reading's key platforms is the podcast Stories Behind the Story, taking you behind the scenes of the book world to reveal the stories behind your favourite titles, with authors such as Tom Keneally, Fatima Bhutto, Paige Toon, Melina Marchetta, Dervla McTiernan, Trent Dalton, and Ben Okri. With more than 300,000 downloads these 'all access' podcasts are a great resource for librarians to suggest as supplementary material to accompany recommended reads.

Since launching the podcast, Better Reading has had countless listeners ask for more information on how to write. Readers love hearing authors discuss their work. In response to this Better Reading is launching a new companion podcast, Better Reading On Writing. This 6-part series explores what it means to be a writer, and the craft of writing.

Better Reading has a growing community of librarians and booksellers who use their website as a go-to resource, and they support the community by doing focus pieces and articles on libraries and bookshops (betterreading.com.au). ✨
