

THE SCHEDULE—continued.

(5) In the case of any individual settler, the assessor, in consultation with the president of the settler's association to which such settler belongs, may recommend that a sum be provided over and above any of the previous payments for the discharge of pressing personal debts, provided that the total of all amounts to be provided under this clause shall not exceed £8,000.

(6) Any compensation (but not sustenance and similar payments) already paid to any settler shall be taken into account in determining the amount of his monetary grant.

B. The complaints of all settlers (not falling within paragraph A above) in respect of whom Victoria has received or is entitled to receive loan moneys under the relevant agreements and who made application within the proper time for their cases to be heard by the Royal Commission, shall be investigated by the assessor, and if their complaint be sustained such settler shall be included in this scheme.

C. The Royal Commission having found against the existence of any legal obligation, the above terms are to be regarded as in full satisfaction of any moral responsibility.

This and the preceding two pages form the annexure referred to in the attached Submission.
