6. The council may make and levy an annual rate in manner Electric light rate. provided in the one hundred and sixty-fifth section of the Municipalities Act of 1867, upon all ratepayers in the borough for the purpose of supplying electricity for public purposes within the borough, and for the construction and maintenance of works in connection with the supply of electricity for public or private purposes in pursuance of this Act: Provided that such rate shall not exceed sixpence in the pound in any one year.

Borough of Redfern Electric Lighting.

Separate account to be kept.

7. A separate account, to be called the "electric light account," shall be kept of all moneys received from electric light rates, and in respect of the supply of electricity and otherwise in pursuance of this Act, all which money shall be charged as follows:—

- (I) With such sums (to be transferred to an interest and sinking fund account) as shall be sufficient to satisfy the interest and principle sums payable on any loan raised under the authority of this Act.
- (II) With the cost of maintaining the works in good repair, and all the expenses connected with generating and supplying electricity as herein provided.
- (III) With any surplus remaining thereafter, which surplus the council is hereby empowered to retain to the credit of the electric light account, or transfer to the credit of the general municipal fund.

Power to break up streets and to open drains.

8. The council may open and break up the soil and pavement of any street, and may open and break up any sewers, drains, or tunnels within or under such streets, and may construct proper subways and drains, and may lay down and place under or over any street any electric lines, and from time to time repair, alter, or remove the same, and for the purposes aforesaid may remove and use all earth and materials in and under such streets, and may in any such streets erect any pillars, standards, lamps, and other works, and do all other acts which it may from time to time reasonably deem necessary for supplying electricity, and may lay any electric line, branch, or other apparatus from any main or branch electric line into, through, or against any place or building for the purpose of lighting the same, and provide and set up any apparatus necessary for securing thereto a complete supply of electricity, and for measuring and ascertaining the extent of such supply: Provided that nothing herein shall authorise or empower the council to lay down or place any electric line or other works into, through, against, or in any place or building, or land not dedicated to public use without the consent of the owners and occupiers thereof, except that the council may at any time make entry and lay or place any new electric line or fittings instead of an existing electric line or of existing fittings in any position wherein any electric line or fittings shall have been lawfully laid down or placed, and may repair or alter any electric line or fittings so laid down or placed.

Power to alter position of pipes, wires, &c.

9. Subject to the provisions of this Act—

- (I) the council may alter the position of any pipes, wires, sewers, drains, or tunnels, being under any street or place authorised to be broken up by it, which may interfere with the exercise of its powers under this Act, on previously making or securing such compensation to the owners of such pipes, wires, sewers, drains, or tunnels, and on complying with such conditions, as to the mode of making such alterations, as may before the commencement of such alterations be agreed upon between the council and such owners, or in case of difference as may be determined by arbitration;
- (II) any person or public authority lawfully competent so to do, may in like manner alter the position of any electric line or works of the council, being under or over any such street or place as aforesaid, which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such person or authority, in relation to such street or place, subject to the like provisions, conditions, and restrictions as are in the first subsection of this section contained.

Borough of Redfern Electric Lighting.

10. When the council opens or breaks up the road or pavement of any street, or any sewer, drain, or tunnel, it shall, with all possible speed, complete the work for which the same shall have been opened or broken up, and fill in the ground, and reinstate and make good the road or pavement, or the sewer, drain, or tunnel so opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby, and shall at all times whilst any such road or pavement shall be so opened or broken up cause the same to be fenced and guarded, and shall at night time cause a light sufficient for the warning of passengers to be set up and maintained against or near such road or pavement where the same shall be open or broken up.

Streets, &c., to be reinstated.

11. The council shall not, in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Act, lay down or place any electric line or do any other work for the supply of electricity whereby any public telegraph or telephone line is or may be injuriously affected. And the council and its agents shall conform with such reasonable requirements, either general or special, as may from time to time be made by the Superintendent of Telegraphs, in writing, for the purpose of preventing any such telegraph or telephone line from being injuriously affected by the said line or work. Any difference which arises between the Superintendent of Telegraphs and the council or its agents with respect to any requirements so made shall be determined by arbitration. In the event of any contravention of this section by the council or its agents the council shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day during which such contravention continues, or if the telegraphic or telephonic communication is wilfully interrupted not exceeding ten pounds for every day on which such interruption continues. For the purposes of this section a telegraph or telephone line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected if telegraphic or telephonic communication by means of such line, whether through induction or otherwise, is affected by any electric line or work of the council, or by any use made of such electric line or work.

Protection of telegraph and telephone lines.

12. In the exercise of its powers under this Act the council shall cause as little detriment and inconvenience, and do as little damage as possible, and shall make full compensation to all persons interested for all damage sustained by them by reason or in consequence of the exercise of such powers, the amount and application of such compensation in case of difference to be determined by arbitration.

Compensation for damage.

13. Where any electric line has been placed above or below ground by the council in any position, any district court judge or stipendiary magistrate or police magistrate may, upon complaint made by any person, if he is of opinion that such line is or is likely to become dangerous to the public safety, make an order directing and authorising the removal thereof by any such person and upon any such terms as he may think fit at the cost of the council: Provided that if the person complaining has consented to the placing of such line as aforesaid he may be ordered to pay to the council for costs and expenses such sum as the district court judge or stipendiary magistrate or police magistrate may award, not exceeding in the whole ten pounds.

Removal of dangerous wires, &c.

14. The council may from time to time enter into any contract with any person for supplying with electricity any place or building, or for providing any person with electric lines, burners, meters, lamps, or other fittings and things, and for the repair thereof in such manner and upon such terms as shall be agreed upon. And the amount due on any such contract, not exceeding fifty pounds, shall be recoverable by the said council in the same manner as is provided in section thirty-four of this Act for the recovery of any rate, fine, penalty, or forfeiture.

Power to contract for the supply of electricity and fittings.

Borough of Redfern Electric Lighting.

Council may let meter.

15. The council may let any meter for ascertaining the quantity of electricity consumed or supplied, and any fittings thereto, for such remuneration and on such terms in respect of the repair of such meter and fittings, and for securing the safety and return thereof to the council as may be agreed upon between the hirer and the council, and such remuneration shall be recoverable in the same manner as charges due to the council for electricity.

Council to keep meters in repair.

16. The council shall at all times keep all meters on hire to any consumer in proper order for correctly registering the quantity of electricity supplied, and in default of the council so doing the consumer shall not be liable to pay remuneration for the use of the same during such time as such default continues.

Meter not to be interfered with and connections not to be made by unauthorised persons.

17. Every meter used for ascertaining the quantity of electricity supplied by the council shall, during the continuance of such supply, and until all charges in respect thereof have been paid, be under the sole control of the council, whether such meter be the property of the council or not, and no person shall be at liberty to cut, connect, tap, fix, alter, or remove any electric line, lamp, meter, or fittings used in connection with the supply of electricity by the council unless authorised in writing by the council or its agents duly authorised in that behalf: Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the lawful exercise of any power in that behalf vested in any competent person or public authority.

Register of meter to be prima facie evidence.

18. The register of the meter used for ascertaining the quantity of electricity supplied by the council shall be prima facie evidence of such quantity.

Council not to prescribe manner of using electricity.

19. The council shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of lamp or burner to be used by any person, or in any way to control or interfere with the manner in which electricity supplied by it in pursuance of this Act is used: Provided always that no person shall be at liberty to use any form of lamp or burner, or to use the electricity supplied to him for any purposes, or to deal with it in any manner so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the supply of electricity to any other person; and if any dispute or difference as to the matters aforesaid arises between the council and any person entitled to be supplied with electricity in pursuance of this Act, such dispute or difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Obligation to supply electricity.

20. Where a supply of electricity is provided in any locality for private purposes, all persons within such locality shall, on application, be entitled to a supply on the same terms as the terms on which any other person in such locality is under similar circumstances entitled to a corresponding supply.

Charges for electricity.

21. The council shall not, in making any agreements for a supply of electricity, show any undue preference to any person; but, save as aforesaid, it may make such charges for the supply of electricity as may be agreed upon.

Power to cut off supply.

22. If any person neglect to pay any electric light rate or any charge for electricity, or any other sum due to the council in respect of or incidental to the supply of electricity to such person, the council may cut off his supply of electricity, and for that purpose may cut or disconnect any electric line or other work through which electricity may be supplied, and may, until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by the council in cutting off such supply of electricity as aforesaid is fully paid, but no longer, discontinue the supply of electricity to such person.

Injuring works with intent to cut off supply.

23. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously cuts or injures any electric line or work erected in pursuance of this Act with intent to cut off any supply of electricity shall be guilty of felony and be liable to be kept in penal servitude for any term not exceeding three years,

36. In any case in which any summary conviction has been had, or any order for the payment of money has been made in pursuance of this Act before or by two or more justices sitting in petty sessions, the defendant may appeal to the Court of Quarter Sessions. The provisions of the Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1883 in respect of appeals from summary convictions thereunder shall apply and extend to all appeals under this section, and shall be observed in the making of every such appeal and all proceedings thereupon. Appeals from summary convictions, &c.

37. The council may, for the purposes of this Act, make all such by-laws, appoint and pay all such officers, and do all such other necessary matters and things as it may now be entitled to make, appoint, pay, or do in connection with a lighting of the borough by means of gas or otherwise in accordance with the Municipalities Act of 1867. Council may make by-laws, appoint officers, &c.

38. It shall be lawful for the council to supply electricity outside the limits of the borough, and for such purpose to exercise any power conferred upon it by this Act (other than the power to make and levy an electric light rate) within or without the limits of any borough or municipal district near or adjoining the borough of Redfern, or near or adjoining any other borough or municipal district within the limits of which the council shall at the time be lawfully exercising such powers, subject, however, to the following provisions:— Council may extend operations into other municipalities with consent.

- (I) The aforesaid powers shall not be exercised within the limits of any such borough or municipal district except with the consent of the council thereof (which consent it is hereby empowered to give), and upon such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed upon.
- (II) The supply of electricity for the purpose of lighting any place, building, or street belonging to or subject to the control of the council of such borough or municipal district shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be a supply for private purposes or use, and all provisions of this Act in such behalf shall extend and apply thereto.
- (III) The council of such borough or municipal district shall, for the purposes of this section, have power to enter into all such contracts, and to levy all such rates as it is by law empowered to enter into or levy in respect of a supply of gas.

39. Nothing in this Act—

- (I) shall authorise or enable the council, its officers, agents, or servants to transmit any telegram or telephonic message, or to perform any of the incidental services of receiving, collecting, or delivering telegrams or telephonic messages, or give to the council, its officers, agents, or servants any power, authority, or facility of any kind whatever in connection with such transmission or performance as aforesaid.
- (II) shall exempt the council or its operations in pursuance of this Act from the provisions of any general Act relating to the supply of electricity which may be passed in this or any future Session of Parliament, or entitle the council to compensation from the public revenue by reason of the provisions of such general Act being made applicable to and binding upon the council.
