2. In this Act, except where some other meaning is clearly intended— Interpretation.

"Domestic purposes" means household and sanitary purposes, and all purposes connected with the watering of stock, and the irrigation of a garden not exceeding one acre in extent used in connection with a dwelling, but does not include the sale or barter of water for any of such purposes: Cf. Canada, 61 Vic., c. 35, ss. 2, 8.

"Licence" means a licence to take water issued under the provisions of this Act:

"Person" includes every person whether in his private capacity or as a public officer, and also every local, statutory or other authority, corporate or unincorporate:

"River Murray" includes any channel, creek, affluent, effluent, ana-branch, or extension of, and any watercourse connected with, the River Murray:

"The Minister" means the Commissioner of Public Works:

"This Act" includes regulations and proclamations made under this Act: "Watercourse"

Control of Waters Act.—1919.

“Watercourse” means river, creek, stream, watercourse, spring, lake, lagoon, swamp, or marsh:

Vic. 2747, 1915, s. 3.

In the expression “lake, lagoon, swamp, or marsh” each term means a natural collection of water into and out of which passes, either continuously or intermittently, a current forming the whole or part of the flow of a watercourse:

Ibid.

The terms “beds” and “banks,” with reference to any watercourse, together include the land over which the water of such watercourse normally flows or which is normally covered by the water thereof; but do not include land from time to time temporarily covered by the flood waters of such watercourse and abutting on or adjacent to the bed or banks (as herein defined) thereof. “Bed” means the relatively flat, and “banks” means the relatively steep portions of the first-mentioned land.
