

ANNO SEPTIMO

EDWARDI VII REGIS.

A.D. 1907.

No. 919.

An Act to extend the Exemption Provisions of an Act of the Governor and Parliament of South Australia, No. 761 of 1901, entitled "An Act to Abolish Compulsory Vaccination."

[Assented to, October 2nd, 1907.]

BE it Enacted by the Governor of the State of South Australia, with the advice and consent of the Parliament thereof, as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as "The Compulsory Vaccination Exemption Extension Act, 1907," and shall be read and incorporated with Acts No. 761 of 1901 and No. 908 of 1906.

Short title and incorporation.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Acts No. 761 of 1901 and No. 908 of 1906, no parent or other person shall be liable to any penalty under section 21 of "The Vaccination Act, 1882," in respect of any child born before the passing of this Act if before the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and seven, he makes a declaration before a Justice of the Peace, in the form of the Schedule to Act No. 761 of 1901, that he conscientiously believes that vaccination would be prejudicial to the health of the child in respect to which the declaration is made.

Exemption provision extended.

3. Upon receipt by the Vaccination Officer of any declaration pursuant to the Act No. 761 of 1901 or this Act, such officer shall give or send by post to the person making such declaration an acknowledgment of the receipt thereof under his hand or the hand of his clerk.

Vaccination officer to acknowledge declaration.

In the name and on behalf of His Majesty, I hereby assent to this Bill.

GEORGE R. LE HUNTE, Governor.
