ANNO VICESIMO-NONO

VICTORIÆ REGINÆ,

No. 16.

AN ACT to further amend The Customs Duties Act, 1863. [29 September, 1865.]

WHEREAS it is expedient, in order to encourage the progress of manufactures in Iron, to exempt from duty certain articles of Machinery whether imported in the whole or in parts into this Colony: Be it enacted by His Excellency the Governor of Tasmania, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Parliament assembled, as follows:—

PREAMBLE.

1 No Duties of Customs shall be raised, levied, collected, or paid upon the importation into this Colony of any Machine or portion of any Machine to be worked by steam, wind, or water: Provided that the Importer of any such articles shall satisfy the Collector of Customs, or other Officer appointed by the Governor in that behalf, that such articles are bonâ fide Machines or portions of Machines which cannot be ordinarily worked otherwise than by steam, wind, or water.

Exemption of Articles.

2 That a Drawback of the whole amount of Duty paid on a Carriage or Carriages imported expressly by Visitors to this Colony for their private use be paid to such Visitors or their agents on the reshipment of such Carriage or Carriages, provided such reshipment takes place within Three calendar Months from the date of Inward Entry at the Custom House of such Carriage or Carriages.

Drawback on reshipment of Carriage, &c.

Customs Duties.

Definition of Carriage.

3 That such Carriage shall mean any vehicle on wheels and springs intended to be drawn by any horse or horses.

This Act and 27 Vict. No. 1, to be read together.

4 This Act and The Customs Duties Act, 1863, shall be read and construed together as one and the same Act save so far as the same is altered by this Act.
